Baseball Shorthand, as used by baseball writers, will render every game more enjoyable to baseball enthusiasts. All players are numbered and all plays recorded by symbols. For symbols and example of system, see below:

NUMBER PLAYERS AS FOLLOWS

Pitcher	1	Second Baseman	4	Left Fielder	7
Catcher	2	Third Baseman	5	Center Fielder	8
First Baseman	3	Shortstop	6	Right Fielder	9

SYMBOLS FOR PLAYS

Single	—	Reached base on error	E	Stolen Base	S	Struck Out	K
Double	=	Fielder's Choice	FC	Sacrifice Hit	SH	Base on Balls	BB
Triple	≡	Hit by Pitcher	HP	Passed Ball	PB	Force Out	FO
Home Run	≣	Wild Pitch	WP	Balk	BK

The lower lefthand corner of the scoring block should be considered as home plate. Progress is counter-clockwise with progress to first base indicated in lower righthand corner, to second in upper righthand corner, to third in upper lefthand corner and to home in lower left. In example to left, batter reached first on an error by the second baseman, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on a passed ball. It is convenient to encircle all runs as shown so that scoring plays may be seen at a glance.

More About Shea Stadium

BUILT BY the City of New York at a cost to it of an estimated 24½ million dollars. In addition, the Mets have spent approximately 6½ million dollars, for permanent offices, club house facilities, scoreboard, press rooms, additional restaurant facilities.

FINANCED through issuance of New York City Bonds.

NAMED by New York City Council for Attorney William A. Shea who spearheaded stadium construction drive as prelude to bringing back National League baseball after departure of Dodgers and Giants in 1958.

GROUND BREAKING took place October 28, 1961.

LOCATION adjacent to World's Fair Grounds makes it easily accessible by $125,000,000 complex of widened parkways. Acres of parking surround the stadium, which is also easily reachable by subway (IRT), train (Long Island Railroad), airplane (Kennedy and LaGuardia airports) and even boat (Flushing Bay Marina)

STADIUM FEATURES include: 21 escalators; 24 wide and gradual ramps; 54 public rest rooms; and a STADIARAMA SCOREBOARD, 86 feet high, 175 feet wide, weighing over 60 tons and capable of giving not only all scores and scoring information, but also of showing color slides and movies and leading fans in Sing-Alongs.

how well do you know your rules?

You're the runner at second base when, with one out,
the batter hits a slow roller between second and third.
The third baseman runs in to field the ball in the basepath.
You sprint for third.
If you don't break stride,
you'll pass between him and the ball. He'll have to slow down for a split-second to avoid a collision, allowing the batter to reach first base.
Should you put your head down and keep running?
(For answer see below.)

METS INFIELDERS CAUGHT IN THE ACT

The Mets infield this year has speed, hustle, defense and long ball power. Above, the camera catches shortstop Roy McMillan and third baseman Charlie Smith in Shea Stadium game action against San Francisco early in the season. Left, McMillan whips up a cloud of dust at the plate sliding past Giants' catcher Tom Haller. Center, Smith survives a hard Willie Mays slide to collect the putout. Right, McMillan looks the other way but puts the tag on Giants' outfielder Jesus Alou at second.

Tom Parsons, late 1964 acquisition of the Mets, shows form in recent game at Shea. The 25-year old Connecticut native has been effective in both spot starting and relief roles.

Casey and the Coaches

Mets manager Casey Stengel is all smiles, and no wonder. Surrounding him is a coaching staff that adds up to 163 years of professional baseball experience. Seated, left to right, are third base coach Don Heffner, Casey and coach Wes Westrum. Standing, left to right, are future additions to the Hall of Fame—first base coach and player Yogi Berra and player-pitching coach Warren Spahn.

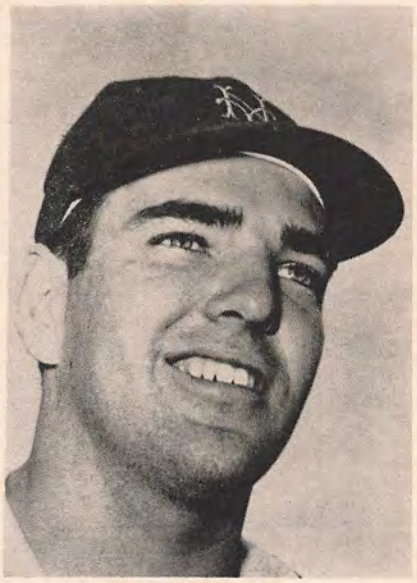
EDWARD EMIL KRANEPOOL

Born November 8, 1944 in New York City. Six feet, three inches tall, 208 pounds. Throws and bats lefthanded. Single and lives in White Plains, N.Y.



Charter member of Casey Stengel's "Youth of America" program, Eddie Kranepool has finally arrived on the big league scene. And the product of James Monroe High School in the Bronx is a veteran major leaguer at the ripe age of 20.

The big first baseman was pounding the ball at a .400-plus clip in the first few weeks of the season, was leading both leagues in hits, placed near the top in runs batted in, and collected three home runs in his first 38 at-bats. Ed went on a 12-game hitting streak, one short of his personal high, before being collared by Houston's Bob Bruce at the Astrodome on April 27.

Signed at 17 for a sizable bonus, Kranepool spent his first year and a half of professional ball in the minor leagues. In 1963 he split the season betweeen the Mets' Buffalo affiliate in the International League, where he batted .310 in 53 games, and the parent club, playing in 86 games for New York. Ed started the 1964 season with the Mets.

Smarting from a demotion to Buffalo May 14, 1964, Ed came back swinging to the Mets on Memorial Day. Batting a limp .139 when sent down, Ed, upon his return, tore off a 13-game hitting streak, then hit in 14 out of 15 games. At one point, his average had climbed to .273.

He might have made it to the .300 mark if he hadn't insisted on playing with wrist and ankle injuries which caused a slump. Now, he's one of the youngest regulars in the National League. Affectionately called "Kid," Eddie's come a long way from his high school days when he hit 21 homers in three seasons, breaking the school mark set by Hall of Famer Hank Greenberg.

PIRATES, CUBS, BANNER DAY UPCOMING SHEA HIGHLIGHTS

At the conclusion of the current weekend series against the Philadelphia Phillies, Casey Stengel's Mets take to the road for six games in six days with the Chicago Cubs and these same Phillies. Then it's back to Shea for a seven game stand, featuring attractions for all types of Mets fans.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, mired in the second division for the first few weeks of the '65 season but now riding high among the pennant contenders, invade Shea for the second time this year. Night games with the Mets on Tuesday, August 3 and Thursday, August 5 surround a Wednesday, August 4 day game to comprise a three game visit.

The Bucs, currently the top hitting club in the National League, depend for their batting punch on, some experts say, the top 1-2-3 batting punch in baseball—Roberto Clemente, Donn Clendenon and Willie Stargell. Add to that rejuvenated centerfielder Billy Virdon, a veteran defensive star, who also is punishing the ball at well over a .300 clip.

Pitching, which hurt the Pirates in April and the early part of May, is back on the beam—specifically Deacon Vernon Law. Fireballing Bob Veale, relief ace Al McBean, and veterans Don Cardwell and Bob Friend are the other stellar performers on the mound staff.

The Chicago Cubs, led by All-Stars Ernie Banks and Ron Santo, also pay their second visit to New York, starting a four game weekend series with a night contest on Friday, August 6. A Ladies Day attraction follows Saturday, August 7, at 2:15 P.M. and the set concludes with a big Banner Day doubleheader Sunday, August 7. The first game of the twin-bill gets underway at 1:05 P.M.

Everyone, with imagination, is welcome to join the popular Mets Banner Day celebration between games of the doubleheader. Last year, more than 1100 banners, of all sizes, shapes and sayings, were judged in the contest. Handsome prizes are in stock for the lucky winners.

The rained-out doubleheader between the Mets and Houston Astros on July 11 has been rescheduled as parts of two doubleheaders. One of the games will be played as part of a twi-night twin-bill on Tuesday, August 31, while another doubleheader has been scheduled for the following day, September 1, with the first game starting at 1 P.M.

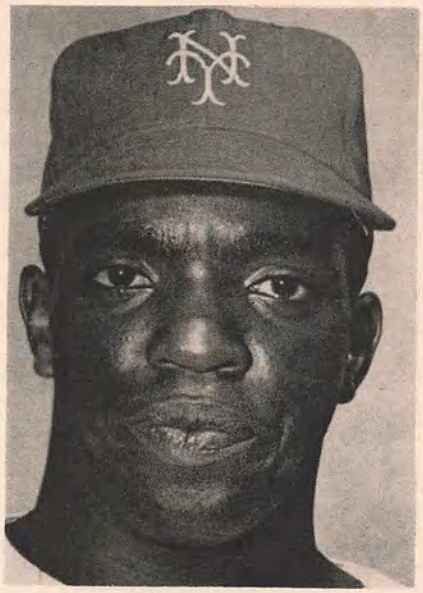
HAVE YOU MET THE NEW YORKER FROM WHITE OWL?

THE BIG CIGAR
FOR THE BIG MOMENTS

JOHNNY JOE LEWIS

Born August 10, 1939, at Greenville, Ala. Six feet, one inch tall, 189 pounds. Throws righthanded, bats lefthanded. Widower and has two children.



This strong 25-year old outfielder, who came to the Mets from the St. Louis Cardinals in a trade for pitcher Tracy Stallard last December 8, has been nothing short of sensational in right-field this season.

Batting well over the .300 mark, putting together a 10-game hitting streak against the Dodgers, Astros and Giants, and throwing out four base runners in the first two weeks of the season with bullet-like pegs, has endeared Johnny to Mets fans already.

A highly touted prospect when the Cardinals signed him in 1959, Lewis was a consistent home run hitter in the minor leagues. In 1960, John polled 23 homers and batted in 104 runs in 124 games at Winnipeg. The following season, when promoted to Tulsa, John responded with 22 homers and 85 RBI in 128 games.

After a fine year at Atlanta in 1963, the speedy Lewis earned a shot in spring training with the Cardinals last year. Johnny gave every sign that he was about to achieve his potential. He was voted the outstanding rookie in the Cards' camp and opened the season as their regular centerfielder.

However, he tailed off and slipped back to Jacksonville where it was discovered he had a broken bone near his ankle. But when he arrived at the Mets training plant in St. Petersburg, Fla., in February, John was fully recovered and ready to go.

Hustling every minute of the game, Lewis received a great accolade when ex-Cardinal manager Johnny Keane referred to him as a "complete ballplayer." So far, Johnny hasn't let Keane's words go to waste.

This newest Met makes his off-season home in Pensacola, Fla., with his two children, Johnny Jr. (4½) and Jeremiah (3½). He was one of that Gulf Coast city's finest school athletes at Washington High, participating in both football and basketball.

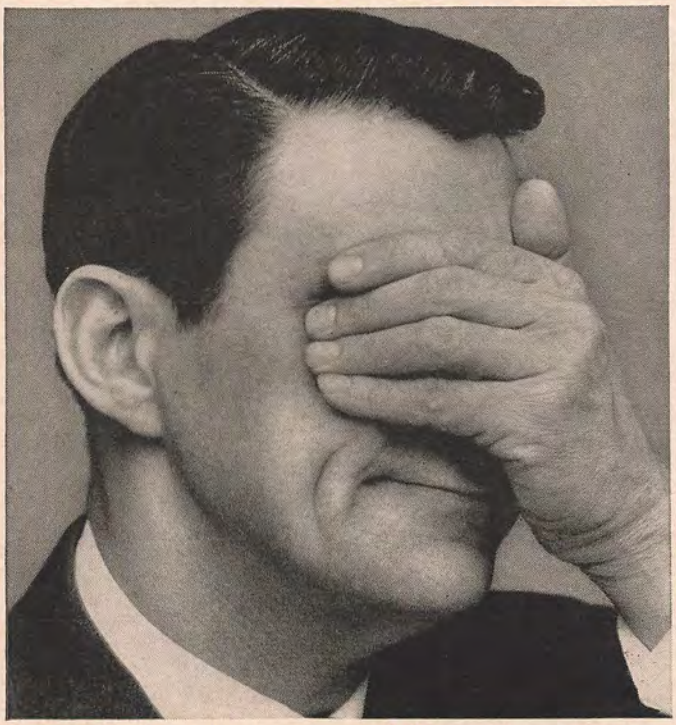
Have you hardened yourself against Soft Whiskey without even tasting it?

There are two types of characters who are certain Soft Whiskey doesn't work. There's the guy who's sure it's nothing but a gimmick. (He hasn't tried it, but he's sure.) Then there's the guy who believes Soft Whiskey is soft (he hasn't tried it either), but thinks if it's soft, it's weak.



First of all, Soft Whiskey isn't just something we cooked up overnight. Distillers have tried to make a Soft Whiskey for years. Even we flopped in thousands of tries before we had it.

Secondly, Soft Whiskey is 86 proof. It does what any 86 proof does. It just does it softer. Soft Whiskey goes down gently. It sort of swallows softly, but carries a big stick. (Incidentally, one way we soften Calvert Extra is by distilling in small batches instead of giant ones.)

It's a lucky thing for us the skeptics are few and far between. (We've had phenomenal success.) Then why all this trouble to convert them?

Quite frankly, after all the work we've been through, we refuse to give up on anybody. We haven't hardened ourselves against them.
